KEY BISCAYNE · Corina Morariu of Boca Raton is in and Justine Henin-Hardenne out of the Fed Cup match between the United States and Belgium, April 23-24, at the Delray Beach Tennis Center.

"No, I will not," Henin-Hardenne replied succinctly when asked Monday whether she will play Fed Cup for her country. Her absence will take a big bite out of what could have been a blockbuster matchup with four of the best singles players on court -- Lindsay Davenport and Serena Williams for the United States and Henin-Hardenne and Indian Wells winner Kim Clijsters for Belgium.

Morariu was designated by team captain Zina Garrison to play doubles. It's her first time on the team since she beat a rare, life-threatening form of leukemia three years ago.
